DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to the amendment filed on August 25, 2008.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 114-184 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In the independent claims, it is unclear what "device type" means. It is unclear what the software is embedded on (ie. tangible medium) and what devices are controlled through the ATM. The remaining claims are rejected for their dependency.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 114-184 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hillson (6,118,860) in view of Albert (5,991,410).

Hillson discloses the invention substantially as claimed; however, Hillson does not disclose providing middleware software at the ATM or kiosk for interfacing the application with the at least one device, wherein the middleware comprises a software component for each device type, each software component embodying an ability to interpret specific capabilities of a plurality of devices belonging to the device type that the software component is for and controlling within the ATM or kiosk by the software application. Albert teaches a wireless adaptor at an ATM or kiosk for downloading updates (col.5, lines 12-35; col.11, lines 30-40; and col.15, lines 50-60—the updates for the components may be downloaded wirelessly at the ATM or kiosk). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teachings of Albert within Hillson for the motivation of extending transaction capabilities.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 114-184 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
